SELECTMEN'S REPORT

To the Taxpayers of Kingston:

In the year of 1932 the country-wide reduction in employment and the tightening of credit has made it more difficult for the working man. The Town of Kingston has been fortunate the past year that it has been able to give employment to 97 people with a total payroll of approximately $20,000 from State and Town. We have tried to divide this work so that every man out of employment would receive his share. The Town at the present time has a hundred able bodied men out of employment. The unemployment situation is one of the worst we have to face.

We have been able to cut from our town poor account, in board at the Farm, groceries, and wood, approximately $1500 for the coming year.

This winter we have had cut 481/2 cords of wood on land owned by the Town. This wood will be used for the schools, Town hall, library, and town poor, at a cost to the Town of $3.50 per cord. We have had cut about $250 worth of cedar posts on the same land at a cost to the town of about $22.00; all this money was spent in aiding the unemployed.

We have built this past year about two miles of new construction. This includes the state aid and special town appropriations. The state took over our trunk line and state aid maintenance. This they are doing for 1933.

The year of 1932 we had a tax rate of $2.92 made possible by careful budgeting and a thorough inventory. This is the lowest rate since 1922.

I hereby express my sincere appreciation for the helpful support given me by my fellow town officers. I also tender my sincere thanks to the townspeople for their splendid loyalty and their earnest interest in town affairs.

HOWARD C. PAGE,
Chairman of Board of Selectmen.

SCHOOL BOARD'S REPORT

Fellow Citizens: School Boards everywhere are struggling with the hardest of all municipal budget problems. They must reduce expenses and at the same time increase their services, for the depression has both added to the number of children in school and added to the importance of keeping them in school. Out of school they enter competition with adults for what employment there is, or they add to the jobless migratory youth who are giving concern to all social agencies. This year with more high school pupils in the state, budgets have been reduced about five per cent. This has been achieved by the most careful cutting to avoid vital stops. A Street Department may stop operations and resume when times are better, and there is little permanent loss. But if the School Board economizes at the cost of the children now in school the loss to that generation cannot later be made up.

Most communities have made it plain that they want their school children to be the last to feel the pinch of retrenchment. The rising cost of education has been no mystery and no scandal. An abiding faith in education as vital to a democracy has led our people to increase both the quantity and the quality of the schooling of their children. When 20 years ago one pupil in six went beyond the elementary grades, now one in three or better goes on to high school. This means not a doubling but a quadrupling of the cost, for high school instruction costs double that of the lower grades. School programs have been broadened to include subjects of practical use to the lives of the majority of the pupils. Things required to be taught have multiplied. As everyday life has placed limitations on home training the school has tried to take up the slack. School Boards realize that the support of the schools does not depend upon any statute. It rests upon the determination which the people of Kingston or New Hampshire have always shown to provide for the welfare of their children even at their own sacrifice.

School authorities, like everyone else, undertook expenditures in the boom years that would never have been started on present income. These expenditures were largely the result of demands made by those not primarily interested in education. So it is vital that the necessary economies in the schools shall be made by those qualified to make them. This is the intent of the School Board of Kingston. We invite your cooperation toward that end.

You who are interested in education know that schools are feeling the effects of the depression along with other national industries. Wise and sane leadership of both laymen and educators is needed, if our schools are to weather the storm safely. Reducing salaries of trained teachers to the level of unskilled labor is only one manifestation of the hysteria resulting from the chaotic economic conditions. The seriousness of the situation calls for the combined efforts of all. Interested citizens need to inform themselves on the conditions in their communities, and take a definite stand against further reductions in school facilities.

Very respectfully,

ANDREW CHRISTIE,

Chairman, School Board of Kingston.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board and Citizens of Kingston:

It is my privilege, as Superintendent of Schools, to again present my report, the sixth annual. In this report I invite your consideration to the following topics: The Pupils' Progress, Economic Conditions and the Schools, Our Needs and the Future.

THE PUPILS' PROGRESS

In line with my last report I wish to continue the tabulation of test scores. The eighth grade was tested separately with the "Standard Graduation Examination" and grades four to seven inclusive used the "Otis Classification Tests." The results are grouped below:

8TH GRADE
Highest Score	Median Score	Median of Union No. 14
203	130	130
No. of Pupils	No. above Union Median
12	8

GRADES 4 TO 7
Grade	Pupils	Median Score	No. above
		Union No. 14	Union Median
4	18	49	15
5	21	73	11
6	17	93	14
7	20	108	12

These results are very satisfactory and commendatory. They are much above our expectations. The standards were somewhat higher this year than last and so the commendation is all the more deserved. Your pupils are making excellent progress under splendid instruction. The two factors are evident in the results obtained.

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AND THE SCHOOLS

Walter Gifford, Chairman of the Unemployment Committee, says, "One body of our citizenry remains immune from all blame and responsibility in the difficulties with which we are faced and must be held in special guardianship during the period of readjustment. I refer to the children." Who can deny the truth of this statement? Yet we fear there are hostile agencies afloat who would imperil the greatest socializing agency in America, our public school system. Due to the great economic stress considerable pressure is being brought to bear upon public officials to reduce the burdens of government with schools asked to take a large share in it since they are a large factor in the make-up of the total. Some will advocate as high as reductions of fifty per cent. Such procedure would be disastrous not only to the schools and the children but to our American Civilization, to our political stability, and to our capacity to return to a reasonable level of prosperity. No one of good understanding would advocate a radical reduction in the money devoted to our public schools. America is not, never has been, never will be so poor that it must starve and cripple its most effective agency of strength and stability.

Education is the balance wheel of civilization. It preserves the best of the past and helps each generation to fashion them to the needs of the future. How much more important just now is this service? Have you not been amazed at the almost negligible amount of lawlessness and disorder during the past year and a half? Have you ever stopped to ask yourself how far the schools are responsible for this control? Schools also contribute to economic stability. Supporting the schools is supporting the grocer, the tailor, the manufacturer, the builder, because the money spent flows directly into these channels of activity.

Proposed retrenchments threaten to reduce the pay of teaching to that of unskilled labor. If such retrenchments are adopted, expensive preparation for teaching must be abandoned. The practice of false economy will require that the school curriculum be stripped to a point which will provide only the type of education needed for "horsecart days." Training for sound health, worthy home membership, lifelong learning, good citizenship, vocational skill, useful employment of leisure, and ethical character must be greatly reduced or eliminated. The abandonment of these educational objectives, called forth by the demands of an increasingly complex social and economic system, will be a greater national calamity than abandoning the automobile and reverting to the days of horse and buggy.

We hear much about school costs. Some say they have increased too rapidly since the war. Let us examine some of the reasons for the admitted increase. First, attendance in the United States has increased approximately 70% since 1914. Since we have not found a way to educate children by machinery, an increase in attendance involves a proportionate increase in school expenditure. Of course we could have prevented the growth in costs due to increased attendance, by allowing fewer children to attend school or by forcing them out of school at an earlier age. Most of us, however, would question whether such a policy would mean a real saving. Second, school costs have increased because the greater demands of the changing times have been exacted. Better trained teachers have been demanded. Better constructed and more healthful buildings have sprung up all over the land. The enrichment of the curriculum to meet the varying needs of individual pupils has become imperative. All of these items conforming to our own greater personal needs contribute to an added expense of operation and are reflected in the public opinion of every school district whether these items are of direct or indirect concern. Third, school costs increased between 1914 and 1926 due to the decreased purchasing power of the dollar. Figures are not available for recent years but various estimates place increased present day costs due to decreased purchasing power at 25% of the increase whereas in 1926 it was 50%. When these three factors are evaluated, most of the increase in school costs is accounted for.

Today your community as well as every other community is studying its schools and every other agency of government to discover what economies can be made to bring expenditures within the community's capacity to pay. Care should be exercised to avoid economies which are shortsighted. The quality of instruction your child receives will depend largely upon what you pay for it. Wise buyers know that there is really no such thing as a bargain. Parents owe it to the children to weigh carefully the many proposed methods of economizing in school expenditures. A false step here can cripple the fundamental services of the schools. In the years just ahead of us lie important problems. These problems cannot be solved by a blighted generation.

NEEDS AND THE FUTURE

With past successes alive in the present, we are lead to believe that the future is not barren and dark. Many improvements in personnel, buildings and equipment have taken place. More satisfactory and better trained teachers have been employed and retained. Lights have been added to every building. Much painting and redecorating has been done. Added toilet facilities have been installed. Playground apparatus has been built. Better teaching equipment is being added from time to time. So we might ask—what is the next step? For improvement of educational opportunity and general value consolidation is both logical and practical in your district. Another imperative improvement is the installation of improved toilet facilities at the Patten School. The present equipment is unsanitary, antiquated, and belongs to a by-gone era. I hope you will see that improvement is made.

I am deeply appreciative of the support of the School Board, the assistance of a good force of teachers, and the cooperation of parents and friends. The year has passed with a maximum of effort and a minimum of difficulties. "The everlastin' teamwork of every blooming soul" has been our watchword.

Very respectfully,

HAROLD C. BOWLEY,
Superintendent of Schools.
